

Hello all,

Hope you are all doing well and enjoying your summer!

Please remember that when you have guests staying in your unit, you must instruct them to sign into the guest book located in the maintenance room. In the summer, with minimal people here, it is very important that myself and the shareholders that live here full time know who is on property for the safety of themselves and the building. Before your guests arrive, please always be sure to send me an email letting me know who will be in your unit and when, so that I know to expect someone in your unit. Especially now that Kevin does the monthly unit inspections, we need to know when your unit is occupied.

Thank you for your cooperation.
